I'm in the middle of unit 5 of the "Teeline Gold Course Book", where the first "advanced" features of Teeline are introduced: word groupings. Common phrases like "I am", "You will be", but even "We should be able to" are written as a single outline. (To be exact, phrases with "... be able to" are written in two parts: word grouping and a full vowel a close to it.)

Writing style. Teeline shorthand is a streamlined way to transcribe the spoken word quickly by removing unnecessary letters from words and making the letters themselves faster to write. Vowels are often removed when they are not the first or last letter of a word, and silent letters are also ignored. Common prefixes, suffixes, and letter groupings (such as "sh" and "ing") are reduced to single ...
